

The Daily Freeman.

VOL. 1.

CITY OF KINGSTON, (RONDOUT,) N. Y., THURSDAY, APRIL 25, 1872.

NO. 161.

THE DAILY FREEMAN,
PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING,
SUNDAYS EXCEPTED,
BY HOKATTO FOWLES,
at the Newkirk Building, Division St.,
City of Kingston, (Rondout, N. Y.)

The DAILY FREEMAN will be an independent Republican Journal, with an opinion on every subject, firm in its advocacy of freedom, equal rights and just laws for all men; outspoken in its opposition to the abuses and the follies of the day, in favor of progress and improvement everywhere, and especially devoted to the interests of the City of Kingston and vicinity.

The Telegraphic News Department will be complete and well supplied, the FREEMAN being a member of the NEW YORK ASSOCIATION OF PRESS, through which it receives and is enabled to present a full summary of intelligence from all parts of the world every morning.

Local News and especially City, Town and Country News will receive special attention, paid correspondents being employed in all parts of the county.
All news received from other than our regular correspondents will be paid for if used. Full reports of all important meetings will be presented, and in every respect the DAILY FREEMAN will be a first-class Paper and a worthy companion of the WEEKLY FREEMAN.

Commercial and Stock Reports carefully corrected every day.

The DAILY FREEMAN will furnish for the breakfast table of its patrons the News from All Parts of the World up to 3 o'clock, A. M.

Terms—Six Dollars per year, payable invariably in advance. If collected weekly, Fifteen Cents per week. Single copies four cents.

Advertisements will be displayed as ordered,
and charged according to the space occupied, measured in inches down the column.

THE WEEKLY FREEMAN, a large, well-filled paper, will be sent to subscribers at $2 per annum, payable in advance. HOKATTO FOWLES, Editor and Publisher.

JOHN PRINTING in all its branches promptly, cheaply and neatly done. By the use of H. R. R. R.
Press and a large force we are enabled to turn out work at a rate that distances all competition. We have facilities for printing Law Cases unequalled between New York and Albany.

HOKATTO FOWLES, Proprietor.

Very Indirect.

It being understood that the administration will not recede from its position in relation to "consequential damages" in the Alabama question, unless coerced to do so by Congressional action, we are requested to present the following indirect claims of several private citizens for incorporation in "our case":

Mr. Graves de Bury, sexton of a fashionable church and general undertaker, and three rising young physicians whom he has been in the habit of recommending to his patrons, join in the declaration that their business was seriously prejudiced by the prolongation of the war, inasmuch as many of their most promising customers, who would otherwise probably have been killed seculum etiam at home and buried in an elegant and profitable manner, were induced to take military service on the basis of various political generals, whereby they escaped all danger to life and returned in such robust health that they have since rejected all offers of medical attendance. It is impossible to estimate accurately the loss thus incurred, on account of the different amount of treatment which can be borne by different constitutions and the varying tastes of families with regard to funerals; but the petitions are confident that the substantial injury of their claim will be at once admitted.

Baring Kettler, Esq., a distinguished member of the Stock Exchange, affirms that on the strength of divers positive assurances in the Tribune that the rebellion was as good as crushed on several occasions he operated largely as a "bear." He not only bore gold (he is not quite certain whether he should say "bore" or "bore"—but this is not the time to weigh words), but he also went out of his usual line and bore cotton. And what was the result of the prolongation of the war on him? Why, that John Bull and the other bulls cleaned him out, sir! Bear? Yes; stripped bare, by George! Wherefore it is clear that he is justly entitled to compensation not only for what he lost but for what he might have made if things had turned out differently—and that, by Jove! sir, is incalculable!

Several other similar demands for indemnification are in our hands, which are at the service of any gentleman belonging to the military household at Washington who thinks he can make a fair percentage out of them.

Good Employers.

We don't like the Harpers' political bias, but as "men and brethren" they are bricks.
They have a way of keeping men with them for a hundred years or so, which is quite refreshing—and they pay them too. In the counting-room, as they call it, of the establishment, is Mr. William H. Demarest, who forty years ago commenced life as their apprentice. He succeeded his brother Gerardus H. Demarest, who learned the printer's trade with them, and found time out of business hours to make himself an excellent scholar and linguist. He retired from his position some nineteen years ago to enter the ministry of the Universalist Church, in which he now holds a distinguished position. After passing through the various subordinate branches of the business, Mr. William H. Demarest succeeded to the cashiership; and, in addition, has ever been the trusted personal friend of the firm—the fathers, the sons and the grandsons. As an instance, we may mention that just before the late Mr. Wesley Harper died he requested that certain persons with whom he had been many years in daily intercourse in business, should be selected as his successors, and that one of them should be Mr.
Demarest. A few mornings ago Mr. Demarest was requested to step into the private office of the firm. Here, without formal polity, it was intimated that he might possibly have been a trifle overworked of late, and that a brief holiday would not be unacceptable.
For that purpose he was accorded six months'
leave of absence to go abroad, his salary meanwhile to be continued, and to enable him to enjoy the trip comfortably, and as an indication of their friendship, they handed him a check for $5,000. Truly, a pleasant thing nicely done.—N. Y. Star.

the practicability and expediency of reducing Oddities of Politics.

In conducting a fearless newspaper, it is often a duty to speak on subjects in a way not in accordance with the settled opinions of many readers, nor agreeable to their tastes and prejudices. Progress in society depends on a frank exposition and discussion of all subjects in which its welfare is at stake. The American people recognize this important fact, yet when applied to a favorite paper make it a chief hindrance to the independence of publishers. This may surprise some, nevertheless a little reflection will discover its truth. A man may serve his party or sect for years to the edification and profit of its followers, yet be debarrd from the honors of his toil, because in the conflict he has made enemies of opposers and the scallions by exposing their weakness and speculations. The camp followers and privateers seize the places and profits, because no one has heard of crossed swords with them. Even while they recognize the service, they sacrifice the valiant for expediency, or cut him entirely for one diression from the accepted theories of old followers.

Lately, this has been so frequently the case in American politics, that the word, "He is too great even to be president," is almost accepted as an axiom. Cass, Benton, Seward, Clay and Webster are standing proofs of its truth. They led American thought for forty years, yet were shoved aside by the people for third-class politicians. There are thousands who lament such is the truth, yet they are of that class who console themselves by private lamentation.—They don't try to help reform society. It is time they stop crying and work. As an inducement to such to arouse we remind those of the early preachers of the American people.

Laying aside any retrospect of colonial times, we only point to the revolution immediately following the Revolutionary war. Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe, Franklin, Clinton and Hamilton were pushed forward to the first places. They distributed the patronage, and led opinion beside. Principles and well-earned honors were the means of obtaining power, until the embargo of 1812, occasioned by the disruption of the old Republican party and death of Federalism. Prior to that the nation, "Republicans are ungrateful," had no force in American politics.—Since then it has been a self-evident truth even here.

What is the result? Service is no longer the pathway to place, but wire pulling, chicanery and deception in its stead. With such "to the victors belong the spoils" is a necessity. Men talk of civil service reform as if retention of a few thousand clerks in position would accomplish this, when in truth, the real reform must be a moral determination to elect only those to office who have proved their official capacity, by honest labor and ability. Rogues can not handle such, therefore manage to get rid of them.

We might apply this to our own country affairs, for nowhere have emoluments and the honors of party been less frequently bestowed on those who were righteously entitled to them.—Our leaders manage our party for our own glory and advancement.—The laborer may be worthy of his hire, but they have not got their wages. Radcliff Delamater, Eli Terwilliger, Dr. Lonsberry and a score of others have done the hard service, but they are not counted even by the distributors of places. When will justice guide America?

Crouch's Apology.

In the Argus of Wednesday Crouch attempts a defence of his connection with the fraudulent printing bills, but if he has nothing better to offer he should for his own credit have remained silent. The facts in relation to this matter are simply these: Crouch, as agent for John C. Brodhead, County Treasurer, negotiated the printing of the new county bonds with Henry Seibert & Co. for $600. For the work Seibert & Co. were to pay Crouch a commission, of the amount of which we have no knowledge. When the bill was made out Crouch told Seibert & Co. that they must make it $1630, and receipt the bill for that amount, that he was so instructed by Mr. Brodhead. The bill was made accordingly—Seibert & Co. received $600, and Crouch came home with a receipted bill for $1630, when he only paid $600 and received a part of that back in commissions.

Now here was a deliberate fraud upon the people of the county. Crouch's excuse that this extra $1020 was for expenses is worse than Terwilliger's proof-reading dodge, and it will place him in a no less humiliating position. If these expenses were legitimate charges, the county would have paid them without concealment being necessary, but as it was fraudulent it was necessary to cover them up under some other name.

Crouch denies having had any share in the money thus taken from the taxpayers, but this implies that he would be the chief actor in such a piece of business and give all the profits to Brodhead.

The matter was brought before the Grand Jury, (not by the Editor of THE FREEMAN, as Mr. Crouch seems to think, for he was not even cognizant of it until he was told of the result.) An indictment was defeated by Mr. Sime Westbrook's strenuous efforts, and the public are naturally indignant, and we think they will continue to be.

Resignation of Hawkins.

The resignation of Rush C. Hawkins is certainly a novel incident in the history of legislation. Never before, we believe, has a member resigned because in a minority. There is a certain pettishness and boyishness about it which cannot be commended, for sticking qualities are what the world likes to see in its representatives, and as one cannot always win he must be prepared to stand through defeat as well as victory.

Mr. Hawkins is right in one respect, in feeling disgusted at the slow progress of reform measures in the legislature. Though we cannot commend his style of doing things, we yet believe he was heartily in earnest in desiring to break up the rule of corruption in high places.

The Walkill Valley R. R.

There is a disagreement among the President and Directors of this Railway, the merits of which we don't understand. Whatever the origin of end of the dispute may be, we hope the quarrel will not delay an early completion of the road to Kingston.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

The bill for Miss Emma Cough, the black-maler, has been fixed at $10,000.

Charles Francis Adams sailed in the Russia yesterday to join the Geneva board of arbitration.

Don Alphonso, brother of Don Carlos, has reached Geneva, Switzerland. Don Carlos has left that city and his whereabouts are unknown.

Alexander Robinson, chief of the Post-Office, whose name is not at all associated with the history of Chicago, died yesterday at the Indian reserve, Illinois, aged one hundred years. He was a steadfast friend of the whites.

Count von Arnim, the German ambassador to France, has arrived in Paris. It is reported the Count is instructed to assure France that the recent rumors relative to the relations of France and Germany are groundless.

Mrs. Husted and Jacobus of the Assembly yesterday entertained the representatives of the press at the legislature at a dinner in Congress Hall. Some twenty-five or thirty seats were filled and the affair was one of the happiest of the kind ever enjoyed in the city.

Appropriate speeches were made on both sides, and the event, as being the first of the kind ever occurring there, and coming near the close of the session, was noticed as important.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

By and by the Chinese—so they say—will ask for consequential damages for every article well worn.

Miss Mix denies that Oliver Logan misappropriated her $2,500. I have seen her turbulent mass of hair when, let down, falls about her in a shower, reaching to her knees.

A wealthy Connecticut man has the audacity to boast that he made his first money by manumitting a negro slave from the Holy Land. Some of these wooden frauds, much prized by the simple persons who bought them, were grown within half a mile of their own homes.

Mrs. Putnam and Mrs. Sturtevant, two sisters, aged eighty-four and eighty-six years respectively, died within a few hours of each other, of the same disease, during last week. Both were widows, and died in the same house in Grafton, Mass., and were buried together.

They say of Thankful Wheeler, an Ohio lady who recently died at the age of ninety-three, that she remembered, as one of the incidents of her childhood, the invasion of New Haven by the British army, when she caught a glimpse of Washington, who had just been elected President of the United States.

A curious incident took place recently at a Paris theatre. The actor who played Albert, the blind artist, in "L'Aveugle," was suddenly seized by another actor, who was compelled to read the part, manuscript in hand. The absurdity of a person afflicted with loss of sight reading speeches may be imagined.

According to the reports, miners who were working three hundred feet, or more, under ground in Iowa county, at the time of the earthquake, were entirely unconscious that there had been the least physical disturbance in that region. It would seem, from this fact, that the force was chiefly expended on, or very near, the surface of the earth.

Delaware lassies take their lovers to see a tombstone in a country churchyard in that State which, according to tradition, was erected by the orders of James Anderson, who "died a bachelor," in order to "warn all young men from imitating an example of folly who had yielded to himself no other reward than disappointment and remorse."

Two hummers of Burke county, Ohio, indulged in a drunken frolic the other day, in which one of them killed the other. The widow of the deceased has sued the liquor seller for $10,000, while the wife of the other sued for $5,000. An Ohio jury will now be called upon to decide whether two men who "died drunk" in that way can be worth $15,000 to two families.

It is a sad story. Twelve years ago Mr. P. C. Wiggins was a brilliant and prosperous lawyer in Howell, Mich. Last week he died of inanition, and was buried out of the Masonic charity fund, from which for some time before his death he had been supported.

During this time his beautiful and accomplished wife has become insane, and his four lovely children are penniless and scattered, no two living together.

That was a nice hanging at Sumter, N. C., the other day. One negro was to be hanged for the murder of another, and the Sheriff thought to ease matters by arranging an avowed and raised him only slowly. He struggled and one hand free and grasped the rope over his head, when the terrible-minded sheriff stepped forward and held his arms down till he ceased to struggle.

Junius Brutus Booth appeared as Iago in Richmond, Va., the other night, and in the audience was a somewhat unsophisticated individual, who inquired of a gentleman sitting near him, "is this the play in which a nigger marries a white woman, and then chokes her to death?" An appropriate reply was given. The questioner then rose to leave, remarking: "Well, then, darned if I want to see Iago. 'Twon't do for old Virginia."

Associated Press Dispatches. Forty-Second Congress--Second Session.

BY TELEGRAPH TO DAILY FREEMAN.

SPAIN.

Madrid, April 24.

A royal proclamation has been issued declaring the provinces of Navarre, Seville and Biscay in a state of siege. It is stated that Carlist bands in those provinces decline to risk engagements with the government forces in the open field, but harass the troops sent against them by marches, counter marches and ambuscades. On the contrary, accounts received by the Minister of War declare that some of the bands have been dispersed and that others are rapidly retreating before the government troops, who are in close pursuit of them.

Paris, April 24.

Advices have been received in this city from the Spanish frontier that the Carlists were victorious and captured forty prisoners in two engagements which they recently had with Spanish troops near Bilbao, department of Biscay.

The Patrie says General Cathelineau is not with Don Carlos, as has been stated. He is still in Paris and will not join in the present movement in Spain.

Madrid, April 24--Evening.

The Telegraph newspaper this evening announced that Montague's band of insurgents has been defeated by the government forces and thirty of them made prisoners.

FRANCE.

Paris, April 24.

The trials of the persons charged with murdering hostages in the prison of La Roquette during the reign of the Commune have terminated and their sentences have been promulgated. The woman Gayard, who was the principal actor in this tragedy, has been sentenced to death and thirty persons who were convicted of crime have been sentenced to imprisonment for various terms.

Paris, April 24--Evening.

It is believed in this city that the struggle about to take place in Spain between the government and the Carlists will be a severe one. The number of insurgents now in the field is estimated at 10,000. The wife of Don Carlos, a companioner husband in his campaign and has resolved to share whatever dangers he may meet in his movements.

The arrest of Don Alphonso at Marseilles a few days since was the result of a pre-arranged plan of the Carlists to divert attention from their leader. Many of the adherents of Don Carlos have been interned in Anzouleme. The French government has adopted measures for the prompt arrest and severe treatment of Spanish insurgents found on French soil.

A portion of troops has been placed along the frontier and all refugees who are taken will be immediately sent beyond the Loire.

GREAT BRITAIN.

London, April 24.

At the session of the House of Commons today Fawcett asked Gladstone whether the government would accept an affirmative vote on the amendment offered by Maria Hartington to the Dublin University bill as one of confidence in the government. Fawcett also asked whether the government would fix a specific time for the consideration of the Dublin University bill. To both these inquiries Gladstone replied no, and further stated it was the intention of the government to have public business transacted by the House before it proceeds to the consideration of Fawcett's bill.

Also, a message vetoing the bill for the reorganization of the Leicestershire and Mechanics' Association.

The messages were read and laid on the table.

The bill having been reconsidered, Mr. TIE-MANN moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Railroads, in order to give certain parties opposed a hearing. Lost after a brief discussion, and the bill was then recommitted in order to amend the title.

The Assembly returned the bill "Relating to Courts of Record and other courts in New York city," with amendments, which were concurred in.

Mr. MADSEN, from the Railroad Committee reported back the bill returned by the Governor (see above), with the title corrected, and the bill then passed.

An animated discussion ensued as to the justice of paying coin in this case, and was by Messrs. D. P. WOOD, JOHNSON, LEWIS and LORD, when without taking the question, a recess was moved and carried to 7 P. M.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 24.

Mr. NORTON, from the Committee on Privileges and Elections, reported that the committee had examined Ransom's credentials as Senator from North Carolina and had found them correct, and therefore recommended that he be admitted to his seat. Mr. Ransom was sworn in.

Mr. A. G. THURMAN said that now, for the first time since '61, every seat was filled and every State represented, a fact upon which the Senate and the country might well congratulate themselves.

The deficiency bill was then taken up, the pending question being on Bayard's motion to lay on the table the amendment of Morrill of Vt. restricting the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims in suits for value of captured and abandoned property to cases commenced within two years after the suppression of the rebellion and in which the claimants prove that they never gave aid or comfort to the rebellion. The vote was yeas 23, nays 25. The Vice President voted in the negative, so the motion was lost.

The question then recurred on the amendment.

Mr. ALCOCK moved an amendment to the pending amendment providing that the provisions of this section shall not extend to claims for property seized by the military forces of the United States at any time subsequent to the proclamation of the President declaring the war at end.

At 4:30 P. M. the Senate went into executive session and soon adjourned.

HOUSE.

A report from the Committee on Printing, recommending the publication of 10,000 copies of the American case presented to the Geneva Arbitration, produced a considerable stir in the House. Messrs. Brooks and Cox and others making questions and making suggestions.

Mr. COX wanted the printing to include the counter case and all the correspondence. Some of the members suggested that that point never during that time become an American citizen and for 28 years he had never set foot on American soil. He denied that any case could be found in any law book to justify the claim that this man was an American citizen. The claim was an impossible one. Without proceeding further in the debate the House at 4:15 took a recess until half-past seven o'clock, the evening session to be for action on the pension bill.

Discussion on the subject then ensued, in which Banks, Ambler and others took part. Ambler argued that Dr. Howard in point of fact had been in China since 1822, fifty years, and had never during that time become an American citizen and for 28 years he had never set foot on American soil. He denied that any case could be found in any law book to justify the claim that this man was an American citizen. The claim was an impossible one. Without proceeding further in the debate the House at 4:15 took a recess until half-past seven o'clock, the evening session to be for action on the pension bill.

Mr. BUTLER, of Mass.—What is the use of printing a gone case?

Mr. BANKS—My colleague has no right to assume that it is a gone case.

A resolution to pay to Gooding, unsuccessful contestant of the seat of Wiscon, Indiana, $3000 for his expenses was offered and agreed to.

Mr. BANKS called the report of the Committee on Foreign Affairs in the case of Dr. Howard, with the resolution thereon. The resolution recites that in the judgment of the House Dr. Howard is a citizen of the United States and the President should demand his unconditional release and the restoration of his property, confiscated to Spain.

Discussion on the subject then ensued, in which Banks, Ambler and others took part. Ambler argued that Dr. Howard in point of fact had been in China since 1822, fifty years, and had never during that time become an American citizen and for 28 years he had never set foot on American soil. He denied that any case could be found in any law book to justify the claim that this man was an American citizen. The claim was an impossible one. Without proceeding further in the debate the House at 4:15 took a recess until half-past seven o'clock, the evening session to be for action on the pension bill.

The bill was ordered to a third reading in that form.

THURSDAY, APRIL 25, 1872.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Senator Hardenbergh.

We learn that Senator Hardenbergh's condition is considerably improved.

The Mary Powell.

The Poughkeepsie Eagle says the Mary Powell will commence running on the 10th of May.

Coal Arrivals.

Fifteen canal boats laden with one thousand eight hundred and twenty-three tons of coal reached tide-water on Wednesday.

The First Shad.

Abm. Schryver caught the first shad at Sleepy Hollow, on Tuesday, and sent it up to Jacob Plough, Alderman of the eighth ward. Schryver means to make Alderman Plough fat.

The Brown House.

S. W. Stout, formerly proprietor of the Franklin House, N. Y., and lately clerk at the Girard, has been secured as clerk by Broas. It is seldom a surname represents the physique of the man, but verily, Stout is stout, yet capable enough to deal out vials right handily.

Music.

The Kingston Harmonic Association will give a concert at Music Hall, on the 15th of May next. The members expect to have the finest orchestra and opera choruses ever heard in Ulster. Besides there will be glee, &c. A rich treat may be expected.

The First Trout.

Charles Van Anden got the first trout of the season on Tuesday from W. A. Tenbroeck, Griffin's Corners. Charles was right happy that day, for his wife had just got home, when in came the 54 trout. He divided with Sheriff Brill and then spent something.

Billing and Coaling.

Our reporter would respectfully suggest to the young couple who passed Sunday evening roosting on a door-step in St. James street, that it would be more seemly for them to do their coaling, billing and hugging in doors. Though it amused spectators for an hour or so, it at length became somewhat monotonous.

Bankruptcy Case.

The creditors of James H. Neice appeared before B. Whitaker, Register in Bankruptcy, at R. Barnard's office, in upper Kingston, on Monday and Tuesday, and proved their claims against the debtor. They elected Judge Schoonmaker assignee. The debt amounted to about $12,000, and he will have to pay 50 cts. on the dollar.

Distinguished Visitors.

Gen. Ewen, President of the Pennsylvania Coal Co., and lady, George A. Hoyt, Treasurer, Charles Carroll Smith, Bookkeeper, Thomas Hodgson and J. J. Wanner, General Superintendent at Newburgh, were in town yesterday, looking after their property at Port Ewen. The party dined with S. D. Cuykendall at his residence, and had a pleasant as well as sumptuous time. They left in the evening for home.

Soreander- Routed.

Some love-lore youths in upper Kingston, in order to soothe their distracted spirits, are in the habit of backing a borrowed hand-organ until they arrive under the windows of their sleeping beauties, and then make night hide-outs with their sorrowful wallings. The other night they waited in earnest when a servant girl emerged at double-quick from the house armed with a broom and kettle of hot water; in fact they waited up street, so fast the organ couldn't keep up with them.

Pigeon Shooting.

Many flocks of pigeons having been seen flying over the lower portion of this city early on Wednesday morning many sportsmen sallied forth, gun in hand and ammunition galore to shoot them, and before noon every hunter was in the condition that William the Silent, of Holland, wished for his peasants—"a pigeon had in his pot." Ex-Chief-Engineer Weber shot twelve in a very short time near Devil's Lake, in North Rondout, and told of others who got more or less of the feathered dainties in the same region. The birds flew very low, and were easily shot on the wing.

Dodge Club.

At the annual meeting of the Dodge Club, which was held on the evening of the 16th inst., the H. N. Griffin H. Tompkins, of Richmond county, was admitted to membership. Messrs. T. C. Vermilye and A. T. Clearwater were appointed a committee to take the steps necessary to the incorporation of the Society. It was decided that the Association on its next annual excursion would visit the almost unknown wilds of the Valley of the Neversink. Last summer, it will be remembered, its members passed some two weeks at the head of the Rondout. This association is a branch of the Hudson River Game Association, having for its principal object the preservation of fish and game, in the north-western towns of this county.

Burglary and Fire.

On Wednesday morning some burglars broke into Fred. H. Mearns's saloon, next door to the Eagle Hotel, on Main street, and after breaking open and robbing the money drawer, stuffed it with combustibles and set it on fire. The fire blazed nicely about 2 o'clock, and was in a fair way to burn up a number of buildings, when luckily one Tim, a harness maker of Elginville, was forced to leave his bed and go and hunt for the doctor. The doctor (Eltinge) slept in the Eagle Hotel, and as Tim came past the saloon he saw the fire and aroused him. The doctor raised his window, and with stentorian tones that awoke the people within the radius of a quarter of a mile of the hotel, shouted "fire!" Wine and his guests jumped from their beds, and regardless of the sanctity of their night robes, rushed to the burning building and soon extinguished the flames.

The wind at the time was blowing strong toward Winne's Hotel, and had not the fire been discovered, in all probability that building with its large stables would have been burned to the ground. Where the conflagration would then have ended no one can tell. In this city there are so many of these family residences who would burn a building merely for the sake of plunder, we think one of the first duties of the new government is to organize a thorough and efficient police force. A police force of six men that will do half their duty, will be much better than our old force of constables, who were decidedly brave in arresting old women, but who could never be found, or even heard of, about the time of the commission of a robbery.

More Burglaries.

The thief who has made several ventures in the role of a burglar in the lower portion of this city, has become bold by his frequent escapes from detection during the past few weeks, and on Tuesday night made his most daring and profitable robbery. The whole-sale liquor establishment of Allen & Murrin on Garden street was entered through a rear window, and there are strong evidences that but one person was engaged in the undertaking, as a dry goods box had been dragged from a pile some distance from the window under which it was placed to allow the thief to pry open the sash, by which an entrance to the office was gained. On getting into the office the burglar opened the desk, placing a box of segars under the lid to keep it up while he rummaged among the papers, no doubt expecting to find money. The money drawer in the desk was broken open by means of an ice-pick used as a pry, and a cork-screw bored into the face of the drawer to pull it out; these things the scoundrel left as he had used them, and he seemed to have a vein of humor in his rascality, for certainly drawing a man's, or a firm's money from them with a cork-screw, and picking locks with an ice-pick is rather an original idea. About thirteen dollars in notes and fractional currency was found and stolen from the drawer, together with an antique locket belonging to Mr. Murrin. The papers found in the desk were thrown about the floor, chairs upset, and a money drawer under some show cases was also broken open and a small amount in fractional currency taken. While at this drawer the robber seems to have become alarmed and left the premises hurriedly. He left forty-three pennies in the drawer, and, as the firm think, did not take a segar or a drink, and left the drawers and windows open. There were foot tracks in the dust upon the window-sill and in the sand upon the floor, all of one size, which together with the dry goods box being dragged, instead of carried, under the window goes to prove there was but one person engaged in the robbery.

The paint store of the Tubby Bros. was also entered during the same night, the money drawer broken open and left upon the counter, painter's overalls and pumper, pots and tools thrown about, but as far as ascertained, nothing stolen. What a burglar could expect to find in such an establishment to carry away is a mystery, unless he is a property owner and desired to decorate his premises with a coat of new paint. Officer Robert G. Tammany has charge of working up the affair and is endeavoring to effect the thief's arrest, and as he is a detective of considerable experience and a conscientious officer withal we hope for good results from his efforts.

C. W. Guernsey has been appointed and confirmed Post Master at Ellenville, vice Geo. A. Dudley. removed. Mr. Dudley has been Post Master about seven years and administered the duties of the office with great efficiency. Guernsey can scarcely do better.

West Shokan.

This new settlement at the depot on the R. & O. R. R. is improving very rapidly. It now has two stores, a tin shop and stove store, and a harness shop. When the cars began to run on this road not a house stood in this place; now there are several, and two new ones are now under way. Rev. Mr. Hammond and Rev. Mr. Ellis are each building one. This will be a place of considerable importance in a short time.

The Rochester Bridge.

An Act is now pending a passage in the Committee of the Whole of the Assembly, giving the Commissioner of Highways of the town of Rochester the power to assume the Mendonson bridge over the Rondout creek, at Accord. This bridge was originally constructed by that gentleman with the aid of some citizens (principally of his own sort), to provide an easy access to his property, for the stone trade. His property was so situated that the only access to it was by the tow-path from Port Jackson, hence his enterprise. Ever since its construction Jacob has tried to throw the bridge on the town. This would be proper, perhaps, if there was a bridge across the canal and a road from thence to the Steerskill highway. As it is, the bridge is a great convenience to the stone dealers, and the general public whenever the creek is flooded.

What a Mattemwan Cat is Doing.

Charles R. Aich, who keeps a store on the Mattemwan road, a day or two ago, during a rain storm, found a couple of little chickens two or three weeks old, out in the yard, wet and cold. He picked them up and took them into the house, and put them down by the stove to get warm and dry. The cat, which had previously lost a litter of kittens, happened to be in the house, and at once picked the chicks up by the back of the neck and took them into a box standing behind the stove, where she began smothering them with her tongue, and petting them. Seeing that she took good care of them, Mr. Aich brought in more chickens, so that one day she had seven in her box at once. She lies down and the little chicks snuggle under her, and seem to be contented and as much at home as they would be with their natural mother. If one escapes from the box, and wanders about the room, the cat will go after it, and taking it carefully by the back of the neck, carry it home. And herein lies the greatest trouble. As the chickens get older, they perpetually jump out of the box, which is only three or four inches deep, and pass has to be continually running about the room after one or the other of them. No sooner does she get one returned, than another is off, and she is constantly pestered by the roving proclivities of her adopted children. Mr. Aich has had to change the brood two or three times, on this account, always substituting younger chicks for those he would take away. This singular family may be seen at Mr. Aich's, who will be glad to exhibit it to those who may be curious enough to call.—Poughkeepsie Eagle.

A negro voted at the recent town meeting in Lexington, the first negro vote ever polled in that town. We hear that when the "American citizen of African descent" offered his vote, a great rush was made by bystanders to see such a curiosity; and the crowd was so great that some of the sleepers of the floor of the polling-room were cracked.—William Journal.

A deposit paper says that Conductor Underwood put a couple of ladies of a night train at Hancock, forty or fifty rods from the station. The night was dark, and both ladies were pre-empted into the pit of a cattle guard half filled with water. By the aid of a brakeman, attracted by their screams, they got out just in time to escape a coming train. Legal proceedings will probably be instituted. The conductor is much blamed for his conduct in the matter.

The Hudson Register says: A few days since we stated what was currently reported, that Congress had made an appropriation for a lighthouse to be erected on the south point of the middle ground opposite this city. We informed our readers that it was only a rumor, and that we only gave it for what it was worth; we have since learned that the Government will not build the lighthouse, as it was considered impracticable in connection with the lights from the iron foundries in this city.

The next camp meeting at Wesley Grove, Newburytown, will commence on Wednesday, August 14th, and continue for ten days. The regular meeting and election of officers of the Newburgh District Camp Meeting Association, in whose charge these meetings are held, will take place in Newburgh on the third Wednesday of May. Most of the tents owned by the Association have already been engaged for the August meeting. Persons wishing tents may make application to any one of the members of the Tent Committee—Messrs. John L. Stout, Daniel T. Weed, and J. H. Phillips.

The well known trotting mare "Black Bay," owned by Bishop W. Terwilliger, residing near Mahalia, had an adventure in a pond a few days ago. She had been tied near the pond, and while her owner was engaged at work nearby in some way she loosened her halter and leisurely walked to the edge of the pond, and when pursued deliberately jumped in. The ice at that point was about two inches thick and the bank almost perpendicular. At first she endeavored to swim across, but found it no go. So after floundering about for some time she returned towards shore, when Mr. T. succeeded in reaching the halter, thereby assisting her to terra firma.

The Newburgh Journal tells the following big one: A mad dog was shot in front street by a policeman this morning. A single bullet sufficed to put the animal beyond all power to do harm, or all desire to stay on this planet, for that matter. The incident awakened a host of recollections in the minds of the little knot of policemen at the Station House. One of the knights of the locust narrated how some years ago a couple of officers were sent to the Powelton House to shoot an obstreperous dog. They put thirteen bullets into the animal. Seeing that he was not yet defunct, they threw on him a rock weighing about two hundred pounds. But he still declined to shuffle off his mortal coil, and they then hung him up by the neck, certain that this would cure him of any desire to survive, and left him. But a little while afterward a boy cut him down, and strange to say the dog recovered from his wounds and "still lives." After this story a cat's nine lives are nowhere.

LOCAL NOTICES.

We give all due praise to the beauty of the carriage of Longyear & Shultz. At the same time we must confess that the Kelder Bros. of the City of Kingston, have for the past and present years, proved to the public that they are in possession of one of the finest and best Liverymen in the State. The most skillful and careful drivers are employed, while their elegant "turnouts" have no superior in point of style and safety. And those beautiful greys with flowing tails, decked with gold metal harness, attached to their beautiful Clarence Carriage, the envy of many, and even would have caused the late Jim. Fisk, or the present Commodore Vanderbilt, to weep to possess the like. The continued success and patronage of the first families in the city, are evidence they are well deserving of the praise ascribed to them and the patronage of those who desire nothing else but first-class turnouts. 156w2.
